FRENCH SHIPS GOING AWAY. ANOTHER BREAK IN THE FOREIGN FLEET.

DONSKOI-REVIEW FORMATION ABANDONED. Although the wind made the North River decidedly impleasant yesterday, the boatmen did good business carrying people to the warships. The Dimitri Donskoi still continues to be the most popular of those remaining at anchor in the river. Another break in the fleet will take place to-day, as the Van Speijk is expected to sail. On board the Russian warships all was bustle and confusion, as they were preparing for the grand illumination of to-night, which the Admiral Said would begin at half-past 8 o'clock. Within two weeks it is probable that the Russian ship will go to Philadelphia to give the officers an opportunity to inspect the Cramps' shipyard. The Hussard, of the French squadron, will sail on Monday for the West Indies, and the Arethuse will sail on Tuesday to the Canary Islands. The reception which the officers of the Arethuse had ar ranged for yesterday afternoon was postponed until Saturday on account of the death of a sailor on board. The funeral took place yesterday and the

The officers of the Arethuse will be entertained at a reception given by Mrs. E. L. Stanley, of No. 56 West Ninety-seventh-st., to-morrow evening, and on Saturday they will dine with Mrs. Richard Croker.

Admiral Gherardi has addressed a circular to the commanders of the different foreign squadrons to effect that the review formation might be considered abandoned. The Russian Admiral will to-day visit Admiral Gherardi on board the Philadelphia, and Russian squadron will go to Annapolis.

In acknowledgment of the courtesies of the American officers, Admiral Magnaghi, of the Italian squad-, has addressed the following letter to Admiral Gherardi:

Gherardi:

To Rear-Admiral Gherardi:
All the haval officers who have accepted the kind invitation to visit the World's Fair, wishing to signify their grateful sentiments, have decided manimously to offer a slight present in remembrance of the American officers who have taken such pains for the comfort and welfare of the whole party during the journey to and stay in Chicago. As the senior officer I am directed to take charge of all the practical part of the business, and I now beg to ask permission to distribute the small remembrances and to express the hope that they may be accepted in the same spirit of friendship and gratifude as they are offered.

E. D. BARLOW, A LAWYER, ARRESTED.

Everett D. Barlow, lawyer, with offices in rooms s. 11 and 12 of No. 206 Broadway, spent Tuesday night in Ludlow Street Jail, the result of an order of arrest issued against him by Judge Andrews, of the Supreme Court, in a suit in which the Phoenix Man-ufacturing Corporation of Tannten, Mass., is plaintiff and Barlow defendant. The complaint in the case sets forth that Barlow was the attorney of the Massachusetts company in a case brought against the latter by H. J. Baker & Brother of this city to recover a debt of about $2,300, and that a quantity of plum-bago belonging to the company was attached by the lawyers of Baker & Brother. At the request of Bar-low, their attorney, it is alleged, the Taunton manu-facturers made four notes aggregating $2,500, pay-able to Barlow's order, which the attorney was to able to Barlow's order, which the attorney was to use either in indemnitying sureties to a bond for releasing the piumbago or in effecting a settlement of the suit. This occurred in September last. The notes were paid at maturity, but last mouth the Massachusetts people learned that instead of settling the Baker case their lawyer had allowed a judgment for $2,314-53 to be entered against them. They also discovered, their allidavits assert, that Mr. Barlow had appropriated the proceeds of their notes to his own use. own ties.

TWO CHURCHES MAY UNITE.

METHODISTS CONSIDERING UNION.

A proposition has been made by the congregation of St. James's Methodist Episcopal Church, Madisonave, and One-hundred and twenty-sixth-st., to the trus to unite the two congregations in one church and to one of the members of St. Paul's congregation expressed it. The proposition has been under consid-

Island. The east side of the city is out of the ques-tion; that is, east of the Third ave, elevated railroad. To build a large church below Fifty nintnest, would only be repeating the blunder we made in building at Twenty-second-st, and Fourth-ave., for by the time the church structure was completed and in full working order the need of moving uptown would again con-front us. It would be equally difficult for us to establish ourselves west of Central Park, for that is already gregations of other denominations, "We seriously thought of purchasing the plot of ground at West End-ave, and Eighty sixth-st, but as much of the property hear there is restricted against flat houses there never can be a very large popula-tion there, and St. Andrew's Church can fill all the requirements of the present and future. Then there is Grace Methodist Episcopal Church in One-hundredof the city. This leaves us the choice of going to em or off going off the Island altogether."

William A. Martin, a trustee of St. James's Church of uniting our church with St. Paul's some time age have long advocated the removal of St. James' Church from its present site in Madison-ave, and One nundred and twenty-sixth-st, to some place further outhwest, say in the neighborhood of Lenox-ave. and One-hundred-and-twentleth-st. The present home of St. James's is not central. It is on the outer edg of its congregation, so that many do not attend it. I am confident that a strong Methodist Episcopal surch near Lenox ave, and within ten blocks of One-hundred and twenty fifth st, would be a great One-hundred and twenty-fifth st. is the centre of New York City, and it will be a question of only a few more years when it will be the centre of population. 51. James's Church has only a small debt, some $30,000, while its property is worth about $150,000. St. Paul's Church has $626,000 in cash besides an annuity of $1,200 a year. By putting this money together we could build not only a church, but other buildings devoted to the purposes of church work, which would exceed anything of its kind in the country. And by the time these buildings were completed and the church work under way the centre of population would be well on its march toward One hundred and twenty fifthest. Thus, in the course of a few years we should find a stronghold of Methodien in the heart of America's metropolds.

Another reason why the removal of $t. James's Church from its present site would be desirable is the construction of an elevated roadway for the New York Central tracks in Parksee. Just back of the church. The railroad will have a station at One-hundret-and-twenty sixth-st, and Parksee, which will injure the church property. annuity of $1,200 a year. By putting this money to

THE COMPANY MAY TEAR UP THE STREETS

A BILL DRAWN WITH GREOT INGENUITY AP-PROVED BY THE GOVERNOR.

Controller Myers learned yesterday that Governor Flower had approved a bill drawn with remarkable ingenuity, intended to authorize the New-York Power Company to tear up the streets of New-York and lay pipes and mains all over the city. As originally in-troduced in the Assembly by Timothy "Dry Dollar" Sullivan, it was an innocent measure, permitting the sale of fruit and flowers between the curb and stoopline in the city under certain regulations, but when he ceeded in passing it through both Houses and laid it before the Governor it proved to be an act amending subdivision 5 of Section 86 of the New-York Con-solidation Act, which provided "that nothing construed as fluid except illuminating gas, water when intended for purposes other than hydraulic or hydrostatic, steam and oil, any resolution or ordinance passed by the Common Council and approved by the Mayor authorizing any person or corporation to lay pipe, for transmission of any other fluid than in this

The Governor, it appears, refused to accept "Dry Dollar's" explanations of what this meant, and de elined to append his signature until Dock Commission J. Sergeant Cram went up to Albany on Tuesday and made the cloudy clauses clear. The real intention of the bill, he told the Governor, was to legalize the ordinances passed by the Board of Aldermen last year, authorizing the New-York Power Company to extend authorizing the New-York Power Company to extend its mains and pipes through the city for the purpose of furnishing power facilities to small manufacturing concerns. Under the provision which General Spinola, representing the New-York Steam Company, was able to lusert in the Consolidation Act some years ago, no other company could lay mains for the ends named. The act approved by the Governor on Tuesday lets in the New-York Power Company, which Mr. Cram, when its ordinance was before the Aldermen, said he knew nothing about and had no interest in.

The Controller said that he had sent to Albany for a certified copy of the law. Until this was received he preferred not to express his opinion of it. Commissioner Daly said that he would not issue a permit to tear up any newly paved street.

Mr. Prooke; "I understood from Mr. Osborne that I you had been consulted."

"No, I wasn't consulted. I never am consulted I shall sit here to-day, to-morrow and Friday, and then not until next month." the Recorder announced. It is not known when the prisoner will be arraigned. District-Attorney Nicoll said that Mr. Osborne or some reason neglected to ask the Recorder in ad-cance to grant the adjournment.
